

Memo 3: Strawberry Cereal Strategy

Team,

The strawberry cereal campaign is ineffective due to unclear audience targeting. Two distinct segments exist, but current messaging blends them.

Data Summary:

Primary segment is families with children ages 5 to 10.

Secondary segment is Gen Z females ages 16 to 24.

Sales peak during back-to-school and spring.

Each segment responds to different content styles.

Observed Gaps:

Messaging is too broad.

Content does not match audience motivations.

Seasonal demand is underutilized.

Strategic Direction:

Split into two separate campaigns.

Track 1, Families:

Focus on fun, routine, and value.

Track 2, Gen Z:

Focus on aesthetics, trends, and shareability.

Execution Requirements:

Create bright, simple content for families.

Develop trend-driven, visual content for Gen Z.

Align timing with seasonal spikes.

Expected Outcome:

Higher engagement, stronger audience resonance, and improved seasonal sales performance.
